Syrian Leaders Rap U. S., Deny Red Influence

DAMASCUS (AP) — Syria's acting defense minister has charged the United States raised a false threat of a Communist takeover in Syria in order to hide its own bid for greater Middle Eastern influence.

Khaled el Azem joined other Syrian officials in denying that Syria is falling under Soviet control as a result of leftist officers taking control of the army.

The United States knows Syria will not accept foreign influence, Azek told American reporters Thursday.

"You pretend we have become Communist and are under the influence of the Soviet Union. . . . You use this as a weapon and propaganda, hoping to frighten people who fear communism and who are afraid about their goods," the defense chief asserted. "You use it to force American and European public opinion to support American policy in the Middle East."

"If you told people frankly the real purpose, which is to replace British and French influence by your own and to guarantee the interest of oil companies and other monopolies, the American people would not help by giving you funds."

A statement read by Azem said the American people and President Eisenhower fail to understand the Arab mind and Arab aims. U. S. help to imperialism and Zionism "willing or unwilling" is preventing any understanding between the Arab and American peoples," he declared.

"In addition, you (America)

U. S. Triggers Atomic Device From Balloon

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP) — A blood-red fireball burst over the Nevada desert today as the United States touched off the 13th atomic explosion of the 1957 test series.

The flash of the blast at 5:30 a.m. (PDT) was visible over a large area of the West. Downtown buildings in Los Angeles were bathed in a flashbulb-bright glow. The flash was visible in San Francisco in spite of a heavy fog.

Newsman, barred from the test site, witnessed the explosion from Angel's Peak, 45 miles from ground zero.

The device was exploded from a captive balloon 1,500 feet above the Yucca Flat test grounds. The dark red fireball flared briefly, then faded. A mushroom cloud raced high into the sky, the rays of the rising sun turning it a snowy white.

Then, as the top of the mushroom detached from the writhing stem, the brightening sun turned the cloud pink.

It paused half a minute, a giant powderpuff cloud poised 36,000 feet above ground zero. Then it began to drift slowly to the north-northwest.

Today's test was roughly one-half of nominal in power. A nominal bomb is equal to 20,000 tons of TNT.

Sen. McClellan Charges Dio And Hoffa Formed Alliance

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate rack-ets probers prepared more wire-tapped telephone conversations to use today in exploring alleged dealings with racketeers by James R. Hoffa, the Midwest Teamsters boss.

Committee Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) charged that Hoffa formed an alliance with labor racketeer Johnny Dio. He contends Hoffa's goal was to strangle hold power over union affairs on the Eastern Seaboard, and that Dio was to profit from shakedowns and raiding the dues of union members.

The committee has heard that union locals in New York were staffed by Dio's henchmen, that the locals had no members except some provided later by Dio, but that they did command enough votes to give a Hoffa-backed candidate an important New York Teamster post last year.

Hoffa is expected to be elected president of the Teamsters Union next month.

Hoffa Thursday heard more recordings of his telephone conversations with Dio. These conversations were secretly wire-tapped by the New York police, acting under court order. In one such phone talk, Hoffa assured racketeer Dio a free field—with-out competition from the Teamsters Union—to recruit 30,000 New York taxi drivers into a Dio-run local of the old AFL United Auto Workers union.

This was in May 1953, and the committee's chief counsel, Robert F. Kennedy, said it was just after Dio's indictment involving charges he received $11,000 to block the unionization of a plant in Allentown, Pa. Kennedy said the charge was that Dio accepted the $11,000 from the employer involved, but did not include it on his income tax reports. The council said the story of the indictment was printed in newspapers at the time.

Hoffa said he knew about the income tax charge against Dio but that he was not aware it involved money for work against unionization.

In three days of testimony, Hoffa has pleaded a hazy memory about his associations with Dio. Sen. Ives (R-NY) said Hoffa has a "convenient forgettery."

Hoffa heard one recording Thursday in which he told Dio that Teamsters President Dave Beck had just forbidden a Teamster charter for Dio.

As he did after other recorded conversations, Hoffa said this one did not "refresh my recollection" about the details of what actually happened.

As well as he can recall, Hoffa said, he merely wanted to bring Dio's local into the Teamsters, but that Dio himself would come in as a Teamster only if it could not be avoided.

Kennedy said the recordings showed that Hoffa had been "siding against your union" and plotting with Dio to discredit Thomas Hickey, New York vice president of the Teamsters. Hickey had favored recruiting the taxi drivers

Reds Resume Atomic Tests With Big Blast

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia has resumed atomic tests with a blast of "substantial" power Thursday, the Atomic Energy Commission announced today.

A brief announcement from AEC Chairman Lewis L. Strauss said:

"The Soviet Union has resumed resting of nuclear weapons at its Siberian proving grounds. A detonation of substantial size took place on Aug. 22."

The development comes in the midst of Soviet maneuvers in the London disarmament conference with the ostensible aim of cutting off all nuclear tests.

The United States, while offering to call off tests for two years, is insisting on safeguards which the Russians reject.

The last previous AEC announcement of a Soviet nuclear weapon test came April 18.

The blast was described as "one of the largest thus far in the current Soviet series." Strauss said it was the fifth in a series which began April 1. It was the 11th reported by the AEC since last August.

Altogether, including today's announcement, the AEC has reported 24 Russian nuclear tests explosions. Strauss, however, has made it clear that not all of those detected are reported. He says they are announced only when there are circumstances of special interest.

In general those circumstances appear to consist of the outline of a test series or blasts of unusual power. Today's announcement appeared to fall in the series category since there was nothing beyond the word "substantial" to indicate extraordinary power.

The United States itself is in the midst of a test series at the AEC proving ground in Nevada. The 13th in that series—the 58th

Body of Boy, 15, Uncovered in Mine

TIMMINS, Ont. (AP) — Rescuers this morning uncovered the body of 15-year-old Ronnie Blakemore as they dug into a mass of debris wedged part way down a 1,400-foot mine shaft.

The body was found about 10 feet below the level where 16-year-old Bonar Scholes was rescued Thursday night. The boys fell into the shaft while dropping stones to hear the echoes. Three other teen-agers scrambled to safety when timbers covering the hole collapsed.

The shaft, with 30 feet of water at its bottom, was blocked with earth, stones and rotted shoring from the 20-foot level for an unknown distance.

Newsman Will Go to China

Dulles' Act Allowing Trial Period Praised

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles won commendation in Congress today for his decision to permit 24 American newsmen to report from inside Red China.

Dulles' action Thursday allowing these newsmen to be stationed there on a six-month trial basis points to an end of an eight-year blackout on direct reporting by Americans from the China mainland.

Spokesmen for groups in the newspaper field said Dulles' move was a step in the right direction, but that it ought to go further.

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) called it "a long overdue but welcome retreat from an untenable position."

"If Red China will permit American newsmen to observe and report on happenings on the mainland, this could very well be the lifting of the Iron Curtain," Humphrey told newsmen.

"This could bring profound political repercussions. The next step might well be the release of American prisoners and a final settlement of the Korean War."

Sen. Knowland of California, Senate Republican leader, said in a separate interview it was "desirable to give the American people access to the news on the Chinese mainland without having to get it second hand, either through Red propaganda agencies or foreign news services of other countries."

Humphrey and some others criticized the limitation on the number of newsmen to be permitted.

$3,500 Is Allotted To YWCA; Funds for 2 Other Agencies Hiked

Funds totalling $58,795 will be sought for the Community Chest this year, an increase of $4,232 over the 1956-57 figure of $54,563, it was decided last night when the Community Fund Council gathered to map out the 1957-58 budget.

The fund campaign will get underway Oct. 14, with a kick off dinner scheduled for that night.

The large quota increase is attributed largely to adding the Young Woman's Christian Association to the list of 11 Red Feather agencies. The YWCA has been allotted $3,500. Quotas of two Chest organizations have been increased, and nine remain the same as last year.

Stark Escapee Gives Up, Was 'Tired, Broke'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A 28-year-old escapee from Stark County jail spent his last time on a pay telephone to tell police:

"I'm tired and broke. Come and get me."

Charles W. Sheplin Jr. was waiting on a street corner when the squad car drove up.

His capture Thursday ended a search that began when he and three other inmates escaped Tuesday by battering through a bar window, with a cell door they had removed.

Sheplin was serving a sentence for first degree manslaughter. The others are Jack L. Tipple, 35, Massillon; Howard T. Clark, 44, Canton; and Ralph J. Piccolo, 44, Waterbury, Conn. Tipple, Clark and Piccolo pleaded guilty to charges of escape from custody Thursday and were held to the grand jury on $25,000 bonds.

Sheplin, who had only three cents in his pockets when he gave himself up, said he and the others split up when they escaped. Sheplin said he went to Pittsburgh and Indianapolis before coming here.

Clipper Band Rehearsals Begin Monday

Sessions Will Run Through
Fridays From 6:30 to 8 p. m.

COLUMBIANA — Thomas Haban, new instructor in instrumental music for the Columbiana schools, has scheduled marching band rehearsals beginning next Monday. They'll continue from 6:30 to 8 p. m. Mondays through Fridays. The marching band has about 50 members.

Rehearsals will be in preparation for the football season, which opens Sept. 14, when the Clippers play at Poland. Columbiana will play Toronto in the preview at Paterson Field in East Liverpool at 7:30 p. m. Sept. 6.

The Columbiana Farm Bureau Co-operative will continue its business under the management of Robert Blak, although Columbiana and Mahoning county apple growers have taken a lease on the storage facilities for the crop this fall. Storage of potatoes, for which the plant here had a capacity of about 75,000 bushels, has been abandoned because many large growers have built their own storage plants. The Farm Bureau handles feed, fertilizer and other farming needs.

FIRESTONE American Legion Post Auxiliary Wednesday evening made plans for a booth in the display tent during the street fair and homecoming, Sept. 5-7. They'll receive 1958 membership dues and plans to help members of the post during the fair.

Reports on the state convention in Cincinnati in July were heard from Ruth Hetric and Esther Sponsler, delegates. The meeting of the Columbiana County Council of the Legion Auxiliary held here Tuesday evening was also discussed.

Mrs. Hetric, first vice president, presided.

ARTHUR STEPHENS, proprietor of the Sportsman's Club in the Tyson building on S. Main St., and Galen Lehman are buying the former Swopa farm of 108 acres north of town on Route 164. They are planning on converting it into a semi-private 18-hole golf course.

The property is about one-half mile north of Eureka Road, two miles north of town. Approval of the Mahoning County Planning Commission will be needed. Making the project semi-private with a small membership fee will enable the proprietors to have control over who uses it. It may be some time before the services of a golf course planner will be available.

The new owners may acquire additional land as the 108 acres is just over the minimum for an 18-hole course.

CHAPLAIN CARL SITLER of the U.S. Army on furlough from his duties as service pastor in Kaiserslautern, Germany, will preach at the 10:45 a. m. service Sunday in Jerusalem Lutheran Church. He will baptize his granddaughter, Janet Marie Sitler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Sitler, John, a member of Jerusalem church who lives in Columbus, will enter the seminary this fall. Chaplain Sitler will tell of his work in Germany.

Thirty members of Browne Troop 7, accompanied by their leaders Mrs. George Hess and Mrs. Frank Snodgrass, visited the Pittsburgh zoo Wednesday.

2 Soldiers Killed, 26 Hurt in Mishap

FT. BENNING, Ga. — Two Ft. Benning officers were killed and 26 others injured Thursday when the truck they were riding in a convoy overturned on a curve.

Names of the victims are being withheld pending notification of next of kin.

The Public Information office at Ft. Benning said the truck was loaded with officers returning to their quarters from a field problem.

Cause of the accident was unknown but the PIO reported the truck was third in a convoy of four.

Hospital authorities said only six or seven of the injured required hospitalization.

Mounted Patrolman Corrals Theft Suspect

NEW YORK — A mounted patrolman galloped his horse along a 42nd Street sidewalk near 7th Avenue Thursday and used his steed to pin a robbery suspect against a parked car.

Patrolman Joseph Ippolito corralled Thomas Taylor, 19, of Manhattan, after the latter allegedly was involved in trying to steal an 85-pound bolt of goods worth $250 from a textile firm.

Also arrested was John Bronson, 19, of Manhattan. He was nabbed by Detective Harold Jacob.

Both youths were charged with burglary and grand larceny.

Believe It or Not, But Train Runs Into Plane

CORONA, Calif. — Gene Maxwell's light plane is a wreck. It seems that a train hit it.

Maxwell, 31, of Corona, was practicing landings Thursday when he lost power, brushed some trees, and made a near-perfect forced landing — except for one detail. He landed on the Santa Fe right-of-way.

While Maxwell was checking his plane and his only injury, a scratched arm, he heard a train whistle. He and several bystanders were still trying to drag the two-seater off the tracks when a freight train reached the scene.

Officers listed it as Corona's first train-vs.-airplane accident.

Truck That Started 29 Fires Is Hunted

HOPE VALLEY, R.I. — State Police today were searching for a diesel-operated truck believed responsible for starting 29 fires along Connecticut and Rhode Island highways.

Police believe the fires were started by carbon sparks thrown off by the truck.

The incident caused an uproar in England among people who claimed it would be almost impossible for the balloon to have reached America.

Hoffa Won't Look Like Hero Of Labor After Senate Probe

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — James R. Hoffa—no matter what else happens to him—is not going to look like an unselfish, modest-living hero of American labor after the Senate Rackets Committee investigation.

His attitude toward the world seems to be: "They don't come too big for me." He sounded tough, cocky and forthright when not knowing what he'd be hit with—he announced he'd answer. It remains to be seen whether he also showed good sense.

Hoffa is being asked a lot of questions covering years. He has a remarkable memory — sometimes. But any witness under oath who makes a misstep—by stating as fact what turns out not to be—can wind up charged with perjury.

He faces no such problem if he says he can't remember matters about which he's asked. After three days of watching Hoffa have memory trouble, Sen. Ives (R-NY) commented on Hoffa's "convenient forgettery."

Yet if Hoffa had done what Dave Beck did—duck questions by taking the Fifth Amendment—he might have ruined 25 years of climbing up the union ladder to power just when the top prize is in sight.

Hoffa hopes to succeed the discredited Beck as president of the 1½-million member Teamsters Union, biggest in the nation, at its September convention. Hoffa was bouncy Tuesday when he first faced the committee. After three days he looked strained.

The picture the committee is trying to paint of Hoffa is not pretty: a tieup with hoodlums and ex-convicts, led by Johnny Dio, and a drive to extend his power from the Midwest to control of New York Teamsters.

Beck used the Fifth Amendment to avoid telling this same committee about his admitted use of hundreds of thousands of dollars in union funds. He wrecked himself as a union leader. Since then he has come under charges of larceny and income tax evasion.

But the committee brought out that Hoffa had borrowed $120,000—of which he says he still owes $70,000—from various sources, including subordinates among the Teamsters, and $21,000 from his own local in Detroit.

In 1956, Hoffa said, he borrowed $25,000 from Harold L. Mark, a Detroit real estate dealer, who in turn had borrowed it from a Detroit Teamster local run by a close pal of Hoffa.

Most remarkable of all in Hoffa's financial dealings was his admission that until this year he never had a bank account but kept his money in a "safe place."

Chief counsel Robert F. Kennedy said some of those from whom Hoffa borrowed money — without interest or security — were men with long police records and some employers who dealt with Hoffa's union.

And when Kennedy asked if the members of his own local had been fully advised of his borrowing from it, Hoffa said he didn't know whether he had reported the transactions.

Police Investigate Car Trunk Murder

PITTSBURGH — Police in Wheeling, W. Va., and Pittsburgh sought today to learn who killed a Wheeling cafe operator in gangland fashion by stuffing him into the trunk of his expensive auto.

The decomposed body of Nick Miller, 46, also known as Nick Vosovick, was found Thursday. His 1957 $6,000 car was parked on a quiet residential street in Wilkesburg, a community 10 miles from downtown Pittsburgh.

Miller, who had a long string of gambling arrests and who had served time in Ohio and West Virginia penal institutions, was last seen Saturday night when he left his wife and two children in Wheeling. He told friends he was "going on a vacation" for a few days.

Two Men Sentenced To Die For Murder

LOS ANGELES — Two men were sentenced to death and a third to life in prison Thursday for murder at the Club Mecca.

Six persons died last April 4 when the neighborhood tavern suddenly erupted in flames. Trial evidence showed two of the men sloshed a can of gasoline into the place and set it afire. They had been thrown out earlier because of unwelcome attentions to a woman customer.

Clyde Bates, 36-year-old former convict, and Manuel Chavez, 25, were sentenced to death. Manuel J. Hernandez, 18, who drove the get-away car, drew the life term.

Conflicts Of Interest

While U.S. senators are making sure the new secretary of defense, Neil McElroy, has purged himself of all conflicts of interest before joining the administration, some of the conflicts of interest among senators come to mind.

Has a Mississippi senator ever been known to put the national welfare ahead of his race prejudice?

Has a Nevada senator ever been known to think first of what is good for the country and second of what is good for his silver-mining constituents?

Has a senator from Iowa ever dared to suggest in anything louder than a whisper that coddling the farm vote with public money is a pernicious form of corruption?

Has any former lawyer in the Senate ever withheld his vote because of a conflict of interest with a client?

Has any senator from a state with a high-tariff-protection industry ever risen above this special interest to make an objective decision about the tariff?

Has any senator from a waterpower state ever put aside his prejudice for public power at public expense to put in a good lick for private power at no public expense?

The possibility that Mr. McElroy might let his past associations and present interests color his decisions as secretary of defense seems trivial compared with what obviously happens in the Senate day by day. The difference is that cabinet officers, if they want to get juicy appropriations, never talk about the conflicting interests of senators.

Transformation

We have lost track of the names of the people who have had their innings before the Senate's racket investigators. But they have left an indelible impression.

It blots out an impression of labor leaders that had been standard equipment for most of us who think of ourselves as children of the 20th century. There is a new impression now.

Labor leaders are not symbols any longer of the workingman's struggle to share more fully in the better things of life on the materialistic side. The leaders, themselves, are enjoying full share of materialism.

There has been a transformation since the era of Samuel Gompers and that young Mine Worker with the busy eyebrows, John L. Lewis. The modern labor leader is a fellow of extraordinary financial means, in many instances. Even if he plays his role in the classical style, he is a man with an extraordinary expense account and weighty financial problems on his mind.

On the face of it, many of these men handle more money and have more financial leeway than the financiers they once battled tooth and fang.

Whether or not this has taken any of the zing out of their battling is one of the questions to which the racket investigators are seeking an answer.

There can be no doubt in the meantime that it has taken the zing out of their old-time reputation for sacrificial devotion to workers. They do not sacrifice anything in the mid-20th century — not on the materialistic side.

Let Margaret Alone!

British sob-sisters of both sexes need something to write about when the sky isn't falling and no crisis is pending. But as a gesture of common decency, hands across the sea, the sun never sets on the British lion's tail, or whatever it is they say, we wish they would let Princess Margaret alone.

Margaret, it is generally agreed among those of us who have an eye for such things, is a royal dish. She is not only a looker, but she also is frisky — enough so to give her sister and the tweedy set the same chills they once felt when Margaret's Uncle Edward kicked up his heels.

This is a perfect setup for mustache-pullers and teeth-tappers who study the conformation of spinsters as if getting ready to bet on a horse, then worry because the girl is not married yet.

Princess Margaret, they point out, is 27 . . . think of that! She is hanging on the vine a little overlong. She may wither and turn into a spinster. Imagine . . . 27 and not married yet! Tst, tst.

Please shut up, sob sisters, and find something else to cry about. Can't you see what you are doing to British and American spinsters, many of whom are far beyond 27 and still sanguine about the whole thing? You are beating them to death with a princess, and it is a horrible way to lose hope.

It's funny how a man will stand out in the blazing sun to fish because it's too hot to go to church.

About the only way we'll ever stop some smarties from rocking a boat is to vote our lakes and rivers dry.

A hen in Michigan laid a lavender egg. We wouldn't advise keeping it until next Easter.

Racial Segregation

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Inter-Marriage Seen As Eternal Problem

The news dispatches told the other day of an orderly demonstration by Ku Klux Klansmen in front of a theater at Jacksonville, where a movie entitled "Island in the Sun" was playing.

The inference was that this was a way of expressing objection to the showing of the film.

But, unwittingly or not, the theme of the picture is the most effective argument from the southern viewpoint that has yet been made against "integration" in the public schools.

For the movie emphasizes inter-marriage of Negroes and whites and does it with a technique of plausibility that makes the whole production perhaps the boldest portrayal of color-mixing that has ever been put on the American stage on a national scale.

This correspondent, who saw the movie recently, was impressed by the skill of those who directed it. The action takes place in a British colony in the Caribbean.

Though three couples of Negroes and whites are shown in dramatic situations of mutual attraction, not a single love scene of the passionate variety is included in the whole thing.

INDEED, in one of the romantic episodes, the Negro leading man rejects the direct proposal of marriage made to him by a blonde white woman. He says proudly that the people of his color would resent it and that he could not go back on the feelings and ideals of his own folks.

This argument might as readily have been made by a white man in refusing to enter into marriage with a Negro woman. But in another part of the plot, the very opposite occurs.

A white man — a highly educated young diplomat in the British colonial service — falls in love with a Negro girl who is employed as a secretary in the office of the governor. The two characters are not often shown together and, when they are, it is with a certain standoffishness not customary for Hollywood technicians to use in modern movies. But in the end the two go off together, married, and sail for England.

In the third phase of the plot there is much ado about a girl in a prominent white family whose grandfather, it is suddenly alleged, was a Negro.

THE GIRL'S FATHER is at first distressed to learn about the hitherto unknown relative, but nevertheless becomes a candidate for local office and goes on the stump professing a high regard for the colored voters, who are, of course, numerous.

His hypocrisy is attacked by the Negro leading man. Finally the father, at a public meeting, having been provoked into an outburst of anger, frankly admits that he doesn't like colored people and rushes away from the political platform.

Whether all this makes sense isn't the point. Southerners in this country have been striving for years to convince the North that the real danger in mixed schools is that it develops social relationships which can lead to inter-marriage.

The movie tends to bring out in the open the subject of inter-marriage and does it with good-looking people as actors so as to minimize as much as possible the element of revulsion which might have been felt by viewers as a result of less subtle treatment of the whole subject.

THERE IS, on the other hand, the possibility that youthful persons — whites and Negroes — now will regard the movie as sanctioning, if not encouraging, inter-marriage.

Oddly enough, while censors have arisen in the theatrical world during recent years who changed the words of Stephen Foster's songs so as to cater to the sensibilities of Negro groups of the North, no comparable solicitude for the sensibilities of the white people of the South is exhibited in "Island in the Sun."

Naturally, many persons in the South will object to anything that lends even a remote degree of plausibility to inter-marriage between whites and Negroes but at the same time, viewed solely as a controversy in the court of public opinion, the movie is bound to focus attention on the southern argument against school "integration."

For the southerner in the current debate has been handicapped by the refusal of many northerners to regard inter-marriage as one of the inevitable results of school "integration."

THERE ARE many states in which laws exist that prohibit inter-marriage of colored people and whites.

The constitutionality of such laws is still in doubt, as the Supreme Court of the United States over the years has not rendered a clear-cut decision and has often sidestepped the issue by deciding the case on other grounds.

Judging, however, by the trend of the rulings of the present Supreme Court, it seems likely that legal barriers to inter-marriage will some day be removed.

When that happens, the South will become doubly determined to avoid "integration" in the schools.

The movie "Island in the Sun" publicizes a delicate phase of the whole color problem. It's a dilemma which is bound to cause many anxious moments for the American people in the years to come.

U. S. Stores Accent Youth

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — The accent is on youth in the nation's stores today.

Back-to-school promotions are aimed at a record 43,135,000 enrolling in schools and colleges. This means 1 1/4 million more need outfitting this year than last.

First response has ranged from spotty to excellent. Most stores look for the big rush this coming week.

Ads stress the new in school needs, like: "A modern pen for the progressive student" and "Pack up your bubbles (a liquid laundry detergent) and carry them off to school in a plastic bottle."

Or they play up the standbys of other days, like: "Our poplin auto coat" reminiscent of the first horseless carriages, second hand raccoon coats that saw their first time round in the 20s, and middy blouses.

The National Assn. of Men's Apparel Clubs believes that boys are getting more clothes conscious. And a store in the Bronx section of New York City advertises Ivy League style suits for grade school boys.

The Boys' Apparel Buyers Assn. gleefully reports that in 1955 the nose counters found 5,682,000 boys in the 15 to 18 age group and look for 8,772,000 in that group in 1956 — all busily outgrowing their old clothes.

The college trade is proving lucrative. Some 3 1/2 million students — up 206,000 this year according to the U.S. education commissioner — are out shopping.

One of New York's top men's stores is enlarging its university shop.

Another is stressing its university model in its suit ads. A New York department store, offering an unabridged dictionary of college fashion, stresses motor scooter jackets, students' linen handkerchiefs strictly distinguished as to gender, and assures one and all that red is the favorite evening color for dancing coeds.

The button down dress shirts in crimson cotton challis, waltz night gowns, pinafore robes and baby doll pants are advertised for girls' school.

One store thinks no college man should start back without a 100 per cent washable synthetic necktie.

A New York hardware store is out for the back-to-school trade with lamps, clocks, waste baskets and a big world atlas.

One specialty store makes a sentimental appeal: "Your grandfather and grandmother satisfied their back-to-school needs here."

So They Say

We might as well have tried to stop an express train with a pea-shooter (as to have cut wages and held prices in 1948 to check inflation). — Roger M. Blough, chairman of U. S. Steel Corp.

This (nomination of Neil McElroy as defense secretary) is a tacit admission that there is a necessity for a clean-up in the Department of Defense. — Sen. Hubert M. Humphrey (D-Minn.).

SIDE GLANCES

By Galbraith

"Raining again today? Say, this is the best vacation I've ever had!"

"Isn't It A Custom Here to Have Many Wives?"

Suslov May Be Next Red Ruler

By BERNARD KAPLAN

PARIS — The latest Western diplomatic reports tab a smooth-talking commander of Russian guerrillas in World War II as the man emerging as the No. 2 figure of the Soviet regime and the most likely heir apparent to 64-year-old Nikita Khrushchev.

According to a top source from Moscow, the one to watch is neither Marshal Zhukov nor Khrushchev's new traveling companion, Mikoyan. In the wake of the Kremlin shake-up which has sent most of the remaining old "Stalinists" into Limbo, the coming man is believed to be a rugged Communist infighter hardly known to the West: Mikhail Suslov, now second only to Khrushchev himself in the Communist hierarchy.

Fifty-five-year-old Suslov is the youngest of the major figures surrounding Khrushchev. As second party secretary—Khrushchev is first—he now holds a position comparable to Khrushchev's at the time of Stalin's death.

HIS RISE since 1949, when he became editor-in-chief of Pravda, has been astonishingly rapid.

While most foreign speculation concerning the succession to Khrushchev has centered around comparatively well-known figures like Zhukov and Mikoyan, Western back from Moscow strongly distrust the possibility of either of these two rising to the peak of power.

Though Mikoyan is widely respected as a trade expert and outspoken anti-Stalinist, he lacks a personal following. In the rigorous, sometimes deadly, game of Kremlin power politics, he is already retted by experts as little more than a substitute figurehead for Bulganin.

Zhukov's influence as spokesman for the Red army is not underestimated but predictions in some quarters that eventually he might seek supreme power are regarded as widely off the mark by the most knowledgeable diplomatic observers.

THE RED ARMY leaders possess far more control over their own affairs than they did in Stalin's day and Zhukov, as their chieftain, boasts influence outside of purely military circles.

However, this should not be exaggerated, these observers caution. Zhukov's prestige and support have been highly useful to Khrushchev, they explain but the former has not demanded nor received any real share of political power in return for it, even though he has been elected to the Presidium (formerly the Politburo).

The reins of the Soviet state remain firmly in the hands of the Communist party. And that means Khrushchev and Suslov.

Suslov is a Stalinist who made the leap to Khrushchev's hand-wagon with icy imperturbability.

Frenchmen got a rare glimpse of his determined, incisive manner of operating last year when he was dispatched to the French Communist Party Congress at Le Havre to squelch an incipient "national Communist" revolt against the longtime French party boss, Maurice Thorez.

Siney and soft-spoken, Suslov put out the fire in nothing flat. "He isn't the sort of man who expects arguments," a French Communist remarked later, "and he doesn't get them."

LATER, SUSLOV turned up in Budapest during the Hungarian revolt. His exact role there has never been revealed. But observers believe him to be one of the main architects of the post-Hungarian Soviet policy in eastern Europe—one which is turning out to be a neat blend of economic relaxation, together with a tightening of the political screws. Suslov was a leading official of the now defunct Cominform and is recognized as a foremost "authority" on eastern European affairs.

A peasant and Great Russian by origin, Suslov is every inch the complete party man, in case it is sometimes supposed that such types are disappearing in Russia.

As early as 1918, he was a member of the young Communists. He was educated at night schools for Communist workers; then specialized institutes, in time becoming an economics lecturer at Moscow University.

He has had one of the most varied careers of any top party official. Propagandist, administrator in the Urals at the time heavy industry was being established there, member of the party's central control commission.

DURING the last war, Suslov became commander of partisan fighters in the northern Caucasus, where he was several times decorated for valor.

In 1944, he was placed in charge of reconquered Lithuania—a highly sensitive post considering the hostility of the Lithuanian population—and was on his way up.

As the man responsible for the day-to-day management of the party, Suslov is hard at work strengthening and extending his own grip, if he is following the pattern set by his predecessors.

For both Stalin and Khrushchev, this was the path to success. They were content to toil obscurely but effectively while other leaders got the publicity. So is Suslov.

Many things have changed in Russia but this still appears to be the surest road to power. North American Newspaper Alliance

Purely Personal

By TRUMAN TWILL

Too much time has been wasted talking about causes of bad behavior among the young. It is time now to talk about effects. Society's first obligation is to protect itself; it can call in the social workers at leisure.

Most of us do not think about this consciously, but it would be a drab world without bouquets of flowers stuck around here and there to catch the eye.

The Teamsters' Hoffa has fascinated me for a reason I have just begun to comprehend: He is the prototype of all the over-aggressive playground bullies who used to bust my teeth and blacken my eyes when I was a school kid.

It has been pointed out to me in connection with the anti-Negro rioting at Levittown, Pa., that the most cherished inalienable right of a large body of Americans is to trample on the inalienable rights of whichever minority draws their fire.

I will agree to any proposal for straightening out play-for-pay football which are academically earned trophies between college degrees which are academically earned and those which are bestowed in gratitude for athletic services.

If the military service academies continue to have trouble filling their classes, I think they might inquire into the effect of TV skirts which purport to reveal the good qualities of West Point and Annapolis by stressing the theme of rigid discipline. Nothing could be less attractive to a teen-ager.

If I had anything to say about running my home town, I would put snappy uniforms on good-looking babes who had reached the age of discretion and turn all the traffic chores over to them.

Among the things I never have heard of in my span of years is a horse named Dobbin, a dog named Fido or Tower, or a berry that

Scratchy and Insurance

The dog insurance company we mentioned recently is really in business and its policy calls for eight dollars for each $100 worth of insurance, with a $5,000 maximum policy. We sent for the insurance agent just to talk things over and it was an odd fact that he was named Katz. He looked at Scratchy intently and seemed to doubt he was a pedigreed dog, as required. Scratchy sensed this and disliked him from the start.

"Nice doggie . . . attaboy! . . . Good little fellow," said the agent, trying to be friendly, but the pooch showed his teeth and seemed anti-insurance.

WE PATTED HIM and held him closer to the agent who said, "He just don't look like a pedigreed thoroughbred," which made the dog pretty sore. The agent remarked that Scratchy didn't seem to be in very good condition. We explained that he needed a bath and a good brushing. "He looks a little cross-eyed and the left ear is all battered up," said the insurance agent. We replied we were not insuring him as a beauty show entry.

"HAS HE EVER been hit by an auto?" the agent asked, looking at a couple of lumps, while the dog growled.

"He has been hit by every auto in town," we said, "but has learned to identify a driver and hit back, which makes him a better risk." Scratchy wagged his tail at this.

"Is he a showdog?" the agent asked. "No, but we let him think he is," we said, "and if you have any doubts you had better express them in a low whisper."

"How much insurance would you want on him?" the agent asked.

"This dog is worth a million," we said, to which Scratchy licked our hand.

"FIVE GRAND is our maximum on any dog," the agent said. Scratchy snarled and tried to get at the agent at this point.

We explained that in our scale of values $5,000 wouldn't cover this dog's left hind foot, even with two toes missing.

The insurance man, taking another look at Scratchy remarked, "He's a small type dog." "This is a small type insurance policy," we observed.

But we didn't get anywhere and the agent left abruptly. He didn't even listen while we added that Scratchy was a Canadian Goose Retriever, a breed which goes away back to a mixture of Eskimo Husky and Carolina snipe pointer, an extra rugged species and a good risk with any company.

WHEN THE McLELLAN committee hearings began on TV a lot of folks got the impression that Bob Kennedy, committee counsel firing the questions, was a youngster being shoved ahead too fast and lacking talents that make a top probe director. . . . But how wrong they were.

He is no grandstand player or showman, violently making his dramatic points but he is a standout as a smart cookie with a card-index intellect, who masters all his evidence, keeps it at his fingertips and is a match for the toughest witnesses.

Here you have the novelty of a cross-examination expert who seldom raises his voice, never chews up the scenery but is sharp, concise and terrifically effective as he points up fact after fact against hard-skinned hoodlums.

He makes some of the committee members seem positively bumbling.

His brother, Sen. John Kennedy, is also extra effective when he gets into the act, which is not often. . . . The senator shows up only at intervals, lest it seem an all-Kennedy show, with harmful political results.

If the working man depended on the TV evening newscasters he got very little, it being amazing how many vital points the video newscasters never mentioned.

French Labor

By VICTOR RIESEL

PARIS high speed Lufthansa transoceanic flight, I've been looking. Now I can tell you why.

FIRST, THERE ARE no union treasuries, no expense accounts, no double salaries, no welfare and pension insurance funds to clip, no jobs to hand out, no cars to buy, no fancy homes and country villas. Labor here is a movement, a morality, not a racket.

It all springs from the fact that even the Socialists and Communists believe that no man must be forced to join a union. Or that he must be hired through a union. There is no closed shop. No union shop.

The French constitution says that no man must join a union or stay in it to keep his job.

Yet the left-wing here pulls some mighty effective strikes. Not because they roll up big memberships and fancy treasuries but because the labor leaders have convinced the workers that the union

The last time I saw Paris was the last time I saw Paris. It is all around me now, mostly lights and shadows. It seems I got something in my eye a little while ago. So I hear the gaiety of Paris, the smart talk of its leisurely restaurants, and the ooo-la-la of a disturbed maitre d' as you argue yourself into a crowded night spot. The tables are taken, but not by goons, not by the moodish labor racketeers spilling money all over the joint.

Why not millionaire labor mobsters here? Why not labor racketeers? Why not buying and selling of charters and protection and shakedowns?

Ever since I got off the graceful chiefs have their interest at heart, not just the leaderships.

Here a man's loyalty isn't measured by the regularity of his dues payments. He pays when he likes.

If anybody tried to get a worker fired for non-payment of dues, all the workers would huddle into the streets and take the union headquarters like they took the Bastille.

RESULT IS the national unions run at a deficit. A few have a surplus—like $3,000 at the year's end.

An expert in union finance here told me that a $10,600 balance for the miners or the metal workers or the teamsters would be a modern miracle vying with Joan of Arc.

You can't milk that kind of treasury even if you were so inclined. You get a measure of their inclination from a recent incident in Marseilles.

The National Board of the Force Ouvriere—the French AFL-CIO—met there this spring. It's an expensive port city. The French national labor chiefs—with as much power as Dave Beck ever had—were complaining that their daily expense allowance was too small.

They said they just couldn't get along on the 1,400 francs a day they received for board meetings, since they get nothing from their unions for attending high command sessions.

Fourteen hundred francs a day are three and a half bucks. The national chiefs said, look, we need at least 200 francs more per diem—another fifty cents. They got it. But they had to argue for it.

IT WASN'T the money, it was the principle. Labor leaders are expected to be labor leaders here, not business men.

We estimate that the top salaries for the highest national union chiefs run between $100 and $125 a week. There are no extras. If a French labor leader becomes a member of a government advisory board, or draws pay from any other post, the union immediately cuts off his salary.

He lives on what he earns from his second job. But he continues doing his labor work, even if it takes him through sleepless nights. No labor chief draws two salaries.

They live comfortably, but they could never become millionaires. Furthermore, most of them do their own administrative work. What help they get, they get from volunteer labor leaders.

NONE OF THEM can go crooked because there's nothing they can sell. They have no real local unions in France, so you can't sell charters. The local unions have nothing to say about who is hired. Most hiring is done through government hiring halls and bureaus.

So no local union chief can phone a company president and say you pay so much or we'll cut off your supply of skilled labor. No French worker has to kick-back part of his wages to a muscled business agent to get a job and keep it. No local leader can give a firm a sweetheart contract. The local has no power.

The workers in a plant—all of them, not just members of a union—vote for a plant grievance committee which settles such matters as a punch in the nose of a foreman or a worker.

The employees in a shop—all of them, not just union members—vote for something called Committee d'Entreprise, a shop committee which decides on the social welfare problems.

THE NATIONAL UNION sets wage patterns and rates for whole areas of France. So no thug can take over one of the few local unions and give an employer a break on a few cents an hour—in exchange for a couple of grand.

And if some hood walked into the corner store and threatened to smash windows or throw acid if protection money wasn't paid, the neighbors would go into the streets and tear the goon apart.

That is, if the gendarmerie didn't get there first to tear him limb from limb.

Maybe that's why Paris is gay. The Hall Syndicate

Victorian Charm for School Days

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor

The Victorian theme in back-to-school fashions is a charming one.

Much of the charm lies in the fact that these small fashions combine a quaint old-fashioned look with modern practicality. Wide bands of embroidery, velvet touches, lantern sleeves, tucked bodices, es, and fluted trimmings, as well as lace, lend an 1860 look to dresses in wrinkle-resistant cottons.

These are fashions of great individuality since they make a small girl look like a small girl, not a miniature of mother. Some of them even come with their own cameo brooches.

Big and little sister (left) are dressed alike in red, white and blue daisy print. Bodice and sleeve have trim of white braid. Narrow sash is red velvet ribbon, has bow at the back.

The cameo dress (right) might have stepped from the pages of "Little Women." It's light cocoa brown cotton with black velvet lacing on bodice and sleeves.

White eyelet ruffle edges the sleeves and miniature cameo pin appears at the neckline. All dresses are Cinderella designs.

Moose Women Plan Formal Initiation

The group balloted on new members, and Mrs. John Candler won a special prize. Refreshments were served by Mrs. William Kniseley and her committee.

S & S Club Members Honored on Birthdays

Mrs. Ray Fultz, Mrs. Don Maher and Mrs. Rose Marie Vanrell were presented birthday gifts at a meeting of the S & S Club Wednesday evening. Mrs. James Phillips of Washington Ave. was hostess.

Prizes in the "500" games were won by Mrs. Don Warren, Mrs. Glen Couchie, a guest, and Mrs. William Ingledue.

Miss Kathy Phillips assisted her mother when lunch was served. An arrangement of American Beauty roses decorated the refreshment table, and bouquets of summer flowers decorated the home.

The Sept 11 meeting will be at the home of Mrs. George Kaufman of Mound St.

Religion on TV Must be Universal, Basic, Says Pastor

NEW YORK — Religion on television, says the Rev. Everett C. Parker, can learn a lesson from the soap salesman.

The vast viewing audience, he explains, tunes in both types of program in the same frame of mind.

"The housewife doesn't become a repeat buyer of some product just by being told a high-pressure story over and over," says the cleric, who has been a specialist in the field of broadcast religion for 25 years.

"She is smart enough to judge for herself, and make up her own mind."

In religious programing, the Rev. Mr. Parker makes two main points:

"No matter how much surface success a program may seem to have, from the standpoint of truly reaching the audience, it is a failure if it is sectarian in purpose. Its religious content must be basic and universal."

"The other important point is to present religion as a way of life, and not try to kid people by answering little specific problems of everyday life."

The Rev. Mr. Parker, director of communication of the General Council of the Congregational Christian Churches and Yale Divinity School lecturer, is currently on TV as originator, coproducer, writer and actor in Off to Adventure, a religious series aimed primarily at children.

The program is sponsored by the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A., and the current 13-film cycle is appearing weekly on 78 television stations, eventually will be on 200.

"If you say something clearly and worthwhile to children, the parents will listen too," says the Rev. Mr. Parker, who criticizes the general run of juvenile programs on "insulting their intelligence."

Get-Together Is Held By Oakettes Club

Fashions for First School Days

Going back to school is more fun when a girl's dressed for the part.

This fall, she'll have lots of fashion choice. There are new versions of the suspender and jumper dresses with their own carefully tailored white pique or linen blouses. Dark apple red is a color becoming to both blondes and brunettes so this is a happy choice for the first day of school.

Some of the one-piece dresses simulate boleros for a high-waisted look. And when a girl hasn't yet got much of a waistline of her own, this is important.

Mother will approve dresses in fine imported washable wools. Many of these are done in plaids with skirts cut on the bias, box-pleated or gathered full.

There are many browns this fall, in shades from caramel-beige to fudge-brown. But there are blues, reds, grays and greens, too.

We show here (left) plaid in a gingham dress cut princess style. Panel is decorated with tabs of pique and big ocean pearl buttons. Mock-bolero dress (right) is done in a woven scatter dot of gray-and-white cotton. Make-believe bolero shows bodice of gray cotton satin; cummerbund is pimento color. Both designs are by Celeste.

School Child Will Like Brief Case

There's nothing like a good-looking leather brief case to make a school child proud to carry his homework.

And it will do for their ego now what hardtop convertibles and mink stoles do later on.

For the very young there are 12- or 18-inch squares with slide locks suitable for holding paints, pencil boxes and primers.

Older children will need expandable cowhide cases. These have special sections for notebooks and zipper-closed outside pockets. Lucky high school students may have leather cases with bottom compartments for the new slim typewriters.

Make sure you're getting genuine leather, which will take the hard knocks that a school child's brief case gets, and flexible leather also will take to helterskelter packing.

Choose a leather case with big, wide gussets and expandable sides — the slim, sophisticated case is not meant for youngsters. And it's a good idea to have it monogrammed. Be sure, too, that a tag bearing name, address, and telephone number is inserted somewhere where it can't slip out. Children have a knack for putting possessions down for play and forgetting them.

Right Selection Of Socks Saves Work

In families with several school children the weekly wash line usually holds enough socks to supply a centipede.

Anklets, half-hose and regulation length socks are standard garb for boys and girls.

Saving laundry work begins with the selection of the socks. White or color-fast cotton, Dacron, Orlon or nylon or combinations of these launder with a minimum of effort. These socks can be popped into the washing machine with heavy-duty detergent and chlorine-type bleach beads.

For stubborn stains such as mud, leather or grass, give the socks a preliminary 15-minute soak in stain removal strength of the bleach beads and detergent.

Sorting socks has possible shortcuts. Colored threads can be run through the sole of the socks, using a different color for each child, or using a different color for each pair of socks. Another way is to safety-pin pairs together at the ankle before putting them into the hamper.

According to studies by Purex Research Laboratories, no detergent alone is sufficient for removal of soils and stains; chlorine bleaches can increase the effectiveness of the detergent; chlorine-type bleach beads are safe regardless of the amount used or the length of time garments are immersed.

O'Neill First At Ohio Fair

Weather Outlook Good For Event's Opening

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Fair skies and warm, sunny weather were promised for today's opening of the 103rd annual Ohio State Fair. Officially, Gov. C. William O'Neill was the first visitor. He cut the gate ribbon at 6 a.m. Just how many other sightseers followed him through the eight-day stay at the vast fairgrounds here, officials were unwilling to estimate, but fair manager D. Robert Jones said he hopes to see more than half a million paid admissions.

A multitude of sights and attractions, from the swing rhythms of Blue Barron and his orchestra to the newest exhibits in modern farm implements will be on tap. Jones, who says this year's fair aims to tell the people of Ohio the story of Ohio, has developed the displays around what he termed "people, products and action," rather than the "still" type of exhibit.

Livestock entries by the thousands will be on view, along with displays of all types of machinery to interest not only the farmer, but the casual gardener, the business man and the housewife.

A number of harness races will be held Thursday, Gov. O'Neill will present the Governor's Cup to the winner of the feature race.

Lined up to entertain the visitors are stars of stage, radio, television and the screen.

Tennessee Ernie Ford will have three shows Sunday, Aug. 25, designated as Newspaper, Radio and Television Day.

A special show designed for children will be shown at the Coliseum today and Saturday. Ricky Nelson, Molly Bee, Rin Tin Tin, Rusty and Lt. Rip Masters head the bill.

The fairgrounds have been considerably brightened, Jones said, at a cost of $125,000. One of the most noticeable projects is the old music hall, now converted into a little theater.

Rev. Howard Jacobs directed the meeting choir which presented two selections. A vocal solo was rendered by Kenneth Phillips of Damascus.

Prayers at both the services were presented by Rev. Walter Mullett of Warsaw, O.

Dulles designated 24 news organizations and authorized them to send one reporter apiece. He said these were the organizations which had replied affirmatively to a poll on the question of stationing a full-time American correspondent on the China mainland for six months or longer. Officials said fewer than 100 replies were received to Dulles' survey of selected news organizations.

Th Associated Press assigned John Roderick, now stationed at Hong Kong to represent it in Communist China.

After the six-month experimental period is over, Dulles will decide whether the arrangement has worked out. Officials said the chief factor in his decision would be whether the newsman were able to report freely.

GM Challenges UAW to Extend Its Contract

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors, replying to Walter Reuther's proposal for a $100 price cut on 1958 car models, Thursday asked the United Auto Workers union to extend its GM contract two years as a "contribution to economic stability."

President Harlow Curtice, of General Motors, made the reply to Reuther's proposal. It was the first reply from the auto industry.

Reuther, UAW president, had portrayed his proposal as a means for fighting inflation. He interpreted Curtice's response as an "arbitrary rejection" and accused GM of "shocking disregard" of the public welfare.

The UAW chief also charged GM with intending "to go on short-changing American consumers through higher prices."

Curtice made his counter-proposal in a letter to Reuther describing it as a constructive step against inflation. The United Auto Workers leader answered in a public statement.

He said Curtice's letter was an "arbitrary rejection" of the union's price cut proposal. He then denounced GM, declaring the company evades basic issues.

Last week Reuther proposed to the auto industry's Big Three of GM, Chrysler and Ford that they cut 1958 car prices by an average of $100 a car. In return he said the union would be willing to adjust next year's contract demands.

Reuther has not indicated what concessions the union might offer. The UAW has said it will seek higher wages and a shorter work week next spring when three-year contracts in the auto industry expire.

GM has been the first to reply to the union.

Boy Hurt In Stolen Car Crash Still Fair

James Fiumara, 16, of 280 S. Howard St. remains in fairly good condition today in the Salem City Hospital with head injuries received in one of two accidents involving a stolen car on Rt. 14, east of Salem, Wednesday night.

The youth sustained the injuries when the car he was driving overturned on a curve. The car had been stolen from the rear of 616 E. State St., Tuesday night, state highway patrolmen said. It belongs to Howard Arnold of 763 N. Lincoln Ave.

Fiumara is being held under guard pending his transfer to juvenile authorities in Lisbon. Five minutes prior to the mishap in which he was injured, Fiumara was headed west on Rt. 14 when he suddenly stopped his car and began backing up, ploughing into an oncoming car operated by Paul Fletcher, 16, of RD 5, Salem.

This Infant Handles Problem Her Own Way

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—Eighteen-months old Jan Jefferies wants no part of that X-ray business. She can take care of her ailments in her own manner.

Wednesday Jan swallowed the winding key of her musical teddy bear. She began gasping for breath and her mother, Mrs. Jefferies, rushed her to a hospital where physicians ordered immediate X-rays.

But Jan had different ideas. She set up a terrific howl and squirmed and twisted to such an extent that the X-rays couldn't be taken.

In the midst of her violent protests, Jan started to cough.

She coughed up the key and went home happy and without having had any X-rays taken.

Guarding Your Health

By Dr. EDWIN P. JORDAN
Diabetes Insipidus

One of our more curious diseases is the subject of several inquiries.

One from Mrs. E. asks for some information concerning the symptoms and course of diabetes insipidus and whether there is a cure and if it is common.

It is not common in the usual sense of the word. Probably the principal symptom of diabetes insipidus is excessive thirst associated with the passage of extremely large quantities of urine. Unlike the more common diabetes mellitus, the urine does not contain excessive quantities of sugar. Actually the two diseases, though sharing part of the same name, are probably unrelated.

Diabetes insipidus is somewhat more frequent in young people and males. A family tendency to that the source lies in a specific portion of the brain. Irritation or injury of this region will act on an area of the pituitary gland, reduce its hormone production and produce the symptoms of diabetes insipidus.

If a specific cause, such as a tumor of the pituitary is found, surgery may be attempted. If not, the administration of hormone obtained from the pituitary gland usually brings relief of symptoms which may last for many hours.

These treatments, however, have to be repeated and do not bring about a permanent cure.

Thus, except for those who can be treated surgically, diabetes insipidus is likely to remain a serious problem.

Bloomberg's Eliminates Westville

Purity Blasts West End 24-6

Homeworth Wins On Sekely Forfeit

Bloomberg's knocked off last year's Class A champion Westville 4-3, eliminating them from any further play in the city league play-offs, in a game played at Kelley Park last night.

Bloomberg's scored early, but Westville tied the count 2-2 in the sixth frame. The winners tallied two big runs in the bottom of the sixth to win, although the Lakers staged a slight rally in the top of the seventh, scoring one run.

THE WINNING RUN were scored in the bottom of the sixth when Allison led off with a double for Bloomberg's. Buchman struck out, and Klein singled to right, driving in Allison.

Capel grounded out pitcher to first, and B. Fowler doubled to right center, scoring Klein. Shaffer then fled out to left field.

Two girls' games were to be played at Kelley Park, but Sekely failed to show up and Homeworth won on a forfeit.

Purity Dairy and Homeworth begin their series for the city title some time next week.

IN THE ONLY GAME played the Purity girls smothered the hapless West End nine 24-6 with a tremendous display of batting power.

Purity blasted out a total of 15 extra base hits, including three home runs, eight triples and four doubles, for a combined total of 54 bases.

Janet Reeder turned switch-hitter last night, after hitting a single, double, and home run, and nearly rapped out a triple, giving her four hits in five trips to the plate.

HE, ALONG WITH Sheppard, who also had four hits in five trips, led the way to the team victory.

Only one Purity batter failed to hit safely, as the team rapped out a total of 25 hits.

A little assistance was added by the losers who committed eight errors.

Mexico to Make Bid For World Series Title

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—A 12-year-old "angel" who pitches a baseball lefty and righty carries Mexico's bid to become the first foreign country to win a Little League world series.

Angel Macias, the two-way hurler, has been nominated to pitch for Monterrey, Mexico against La Mesa Calif., in today's final of the 11th annual international play-offs for boys 8 to 12.

By winning Thursday in the opening of the streamlined world series competition the Mexico and California entries become the survivors of a 4,500-team playoff that began weeks ago on the local level.

SEMI FINAL PLAY REACHED WILBERFORCE, Ohio (AP)—The American Tennis Assn.'s junior and senior tennis championships go into semi-final play today at Central State College here.

Stan Musial Pulls Muscle In Shoulder

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals, their pennant hopes perhaps hanging in the balance, were anxiously awaiting further word today on Stan Musial's injured shoulder.

Musial, the National League's leading hitter, pulled a muscle in his left shoulder, swinging at a pitch in the fifth inning of Thursday night's game with the Philadelphia Phillies.

Dr. Thomas McTeer, Phillies team physician, and St. Louis trainer Bobby Bauman said Musial may be out for days and perhaps weeks.

They said their immediate examination showed a torn muscle but X-rays would be made today to determine the seriousness of the injury.

Musial left the park heavily taped and in some pain.

"I've been going so good this year, too," he said. "I haven't been injured painfully for a long time. And we've got a chance for the pennant too."

Musial said he injured the muscle trying to pull the ball behind Wally Moon who was on first. He missed a curve from Philly Ace Jack Sanford.

Bauman said "when Stan first came in there was a knot as big as my fist on his back. That was a muscle spasm that kept him from moving too much. That's gone down a lot but there's still a tear in the muscle."

In addition to the second-place Cardinals' pennant hopes, Musial's consecutive game streak is in jeopardy. As of July 21, he had been in 862 consecutive games. He missed the nightcap of a double-header that date in Pittsburgh but the game was suspended in the ninth because of Pennsylvania's curfew law. It is scheduled to be finished next Tuesday and if Musial is in the line-up it would count on his streak and make it 895 through Thursday night.

This if Musial misses tonight's game here his National League record of consecutive performances will end at 862 or 895 depending on whether he's in the lineup Tuesday.

Rademacher Advised To Quit Boxing Ring

SEATTLE (AP)—Referee Tommy Loughran, one of the great light heavyweight boxing champions of yesteryears, today advised Pete Rademacher to quit the ring.

At the same time he said heavy-weight champion Floyd Patterson could become as great as Jack Dempsey.

Of Rademacher, the 1956 olympic king whose first bout out of the amateur ranks was Thursday night's sixth round knockout to Patterson, Tommy said:

"The fellow needs experience the same as any amateur does on turning pro. He hits hard and has the heart of a lion. He could do well with the contenders. But he is 28 and at his age it would be foolish to start."

Tommy, who acted as referee and sole official this first time he had such a job in a heavy weight title bout, said, "Patterson is a great fighter. He could go down in history as another Jack Dempsey. He hits fast and hard."

NILES ELIMINATED 6-1 DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The Cincinnati Cheviots meet Wright-Patterson Air Force Base of Dayton and the Louisville Fire Department takes on the Fort Wayne Oilers in the first round of the Dayton sectional of the National Amateur Baseball Federation's senior baseball tournament here tonight.

At Altoona, Pa., Thursday, Youngstown eliminated Niles 6-1 and Dayton 4-3. Pittsburgh was scratched by Cincinnati 8-4 and Cincinnati then eliminated Fort Wayne 7-4. Cleveland eliminated Philadelphia 9-1, then bowed out to Detroit 3-2.

Indians Rapped By Red Sox 11-3

Early Wynn Drops 5th Straight Game

CLEVELAND (AP)—After cooling off Ted Williams but losing two out of three to the Boston Red Sox, the Cleveland Indians get a crack at Mickey Mantle and the New York Yankees tonight.

Williams, who had gone 0 for 6 in the first two games against the Indians, hit two singles in four trips Thursday. The Red Sox took the rubber game 11-3.

Out in Kansas City, Mantle snapped an 0 for 11 famine with a single in four trips which dropped his average to .377, nine points behind Terrible Ted.

Mantle will be facing Cleveland's top pitcher tonight, fireballing Ray Narleski. Manager Kerby Farrell plans to send his other converted fireman, Don Mossi, Saturday in the Tribe's final home game of the season against the New Yorkers.

Casey Stengel has selected Bobby Shantz and Whitey Ford.

The Red Sox rapped 14 hits off three pitchers Thursday in giving Early Wynn his fifth straight defeat and 15th of the season against 13 victories.

Boston got eight hits and six runs in five innings off Wynn, four hits and three runs in three innings off Bud Daley, and two hits and two runs off Dick Tomanek in the ninth inning.

One run off Tomanek was Jack Jensen's 15th homer. The other was unearned in an unusual manner.

An error and a single put men on first and second.

Then Red Sox pitcher Mike Fornieles hit a pop fly to short center. It looked like a hit and the runners took off. But Chico Carrasquel caught the ball, and instead of stepping on second, threw to first. Meantime, the runner from second, Gene Mauch, had crossed the plate.

Most everybody in the stadium thought the run wouldn't count, and only one run—Jensen's homer—was posted on the scoreboard. Plate umpire Hank Soar waited until Fornieles threw one pitch, then turned to the official scorer and announced: "Give the Red Sox two runs in the ninth."

The ump ruled Mauch ran at his own risk and the Indians made no play for him. He crossed the plate before the third out was made, and therefore he scored a run.

"The Indians should have appealed the run before the first pitch was made in the last of the ninth," said umpire-in-chief Charley Berry.

"If an appeal had been made and they tagged second base, that out would have taken precedence over the out made at first base and the run would not have counted."

Even Berry said he's never seen such a situation before.

"We've talked about this play hundreds of times," said the ump. "But I never saw it happen."

It didn't really matter anyway.

Jim Brown Is 'Fastest Big Man Since Motley'

Brown of the Cleveland Browns thinks Jim Brown is "the fastest big man we've had since Marion Motley."

To folks who remember Motley's cannonball runs, that's high praise for the 21-year-old rookie from Syracuse.

"And I'm talking about Marion in his prime," said Brown. "Jim not only has the speed, but he's a contact football player. We like very much what we've seen of him."

Jim played briefly with the College All-Stars, and with the Browns last week against Detroit. He gets a better test Saturday night against the Pittsburgh Steelers in Akron.

The 225-pound, 6-2 youngster was the Browns' No. 1 draft choice. He's competing at full-back with Ed Modzelewski and Maurice Bassett from last year's squad, and two newcomers—John Bayuk and Frank Purnell. Brown outran them all in a 40-yard race.

Pittsburgh Rips Cincinnati 8-3

Rhinelanders Drop 10th Straight Game

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The deepening humiliation of the Cincinnati Redlegs has reached the record books—10 straight losses, the longest fadeout in the National League this season.

It is the biggest string of Redleg defeats since Birdie Tebbetts became manager in 1954.

The Reds' 8-3 loss Thursday night to the Pittsburgh Pirates dropped the Rhinelanders 13½ games off the league pace set by Milwaukee.

Thursday's game also included some bad baseball—including four Redleg errors.

Bob Friend's nine-hit pitching helped send the Reds to defeat, although for the first four innings, Redleg starter Don Gross held the Pirates on even terms.

But in the fifth, the deadlock was ended by a five-run Pirate outburst that sent Gross to the showers. The Pirates belted five hits and capitalized on the first of Gus Bell's two errors.

The Reds, scoreless in the previous 15 innings, punched out two of their runs in the fifth inning.

Don Hoak and pinch hitter Joe Taylor singled and a wild pitch brought in the first marker. Bell's hit over second brought in the second run.

But the Pirates came back with two runs on three hits and a Frankie Robinson error in their half of the inning. The Bucs went on to add another in the eighth that matched the final Cincinnati run in the seventh.

Cincinnati's Roy McMillan collected a walk in the seventh, went to third on a single by Ted Klusowski and scored while Pittsburgh was putting a double play together.

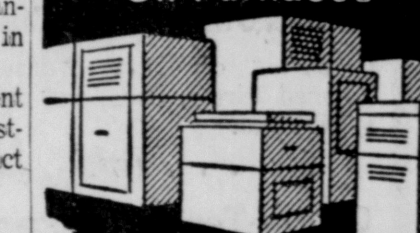

A double by Hank Foiles and Gene Freese's single combined for the final Pirate score.

The second of three games scheduled here comes tonight with Joe Nuxhall booked to oppose Bob Purkey on the mound.

Floyd Patterson on Knocks Out Rademacher in Sixth Round

Champ Is First To Hit Canvas

Valiant Challenger Decked Seven Times

SEATTLE (AP)—Floyd Patterson, the cool destroyer who holds the world heavyweight championship, cut down powerful Pete Rademacher Thursday night and turned to dust the big guy's dream of stepping from the amateur peak to the pinnacle of the pros.

Giving away 15 pounds — the champion weighed 187 to Rademacher's 202 — Floyd decked the courageous challenger seven times before Pete took the full count at 2:57 of the sixth round.

But, to the consternation of the thousands who regarded this as a mismatch, Patterson was the first man to hit the canvas. Midway in the second round Rademacher crossed a right to the champion's jaw. Floyd seemed to slip as he sagged, but he went all the way down and the knockdown counter at ringside had reached the tally of four when he got back up.

Referee Tommy Loughran waved off the count, ruling it a knockdown but later in his dressing room Floyd said he was bowled over by the punch.

The professional began to show his superiority over the Olympic titlist in the third round, leaping from a crouch to spear Rademacher with a straight right that sent the big guy sprawling.

He took a nine count and was back on his feet at the bell, but the crowd of 16,961 had its tipoff on the outcome.

It was delayed in Round 4 while Floyd moved easily around big Pete, stalking him and looking for an opening for a payoff punch. He found the range in the fifth.

Four times Patterson blasted him down in that round, and four times the farm boy from Grandview, Wash., struggled up at the count of nine and tried valiantly to match blows.

Loughran went to Rademacher's corner after the bell to ask Pete if he was all right and got a smiling nod. But Pete appeared tired and hurt, and the few blows he landed in the sixth lacked sting. He clinched, and as Loughran moved in to separate them Patterson poured on a left and then a right. It was the next-to-last knockdown.

Patterson threw a left and this time as Rademacher struggled wearily to his feet the referee waved Patterson away. Most ring-siders thought Loughran was stopping the fight, but the referee said the count had reached 10 and it was a knockout.

After the battle Rademacher offered no alibis and Patterson was high in his praise for the challenger, who had dreamed up this fight and made it real. Rademacher is the first man ever to step from the amateur ranks directly into a heavyweight championship fight.

"He has all the qualifications of a future great fighter," Floyd said.

"When somebody is chopping at you with an ax you have to go down eventually," grinned Rademacher, holding a chunk of ice to a slightly puffed eye. Asked if he felt fighting for nothing was worth the effort, he said, "Very definitely."

The bout drew a gross gate of $243,030 — far short of the anticipated fullhouse $400,000. Rademacher's backers—a group of Georgia businessmen — put up Patterson's guarantee of $250,000 and took both fighters' share of the gate—60 per cent of the $209,556 net or just under $125,500.

Patterson said this would be his last fight in 1957. Asked if he would fight again now that he has become a professional, Rademacher said that was something he would decide later.

"He is," said Loughran of Rademacher, "the most courageous fighter I have ever seen."

Loughran, who was sole judge, scored the first two rounds for Rademacher and gave the rest to Floyd. The Associated Press card agreed, except for calling the first round even.

Scott Resigns Post At Berlin Center

Maurice Scott has resigned as coach at Berlin Center to accept the head basketball coaching post at Caldwell.

Scott also will be assistant football coach and the school athletic director in his new post.

A successor for the vacancy left by Scott will be chosen at a later date.

While at Berlin Center, Scott achieved a five-year record of 72 victories and only 35 defeats in basketball, and his baseball teams won 28 and lost 12.

Scott's reasons for accepting the new post were a substantial salary increase and the fact that Caldwell, a Class AA school, is larger. Berlin Center is a Class A school.

The Watsui tribesmen in Belgian Equatorial Africa average about seven feet tall.

Champion Gives 'Full Credit' To 'Full Credit'

Didn't Underestimate Him, Says Patterson

SEATTLE (AP)—Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson, knocked down for only the second time in his pro career before stopping amateur king Pete Rademacher Thursday night, gave his foe full credit.

"I don't remember going down, so obviously it was a knockdown," the 22-year-old Floyd said in his hot, crowded dressing room at Slicks Stadium.

"Most everybody underestimated him," Patterson said of the 28-year-old Rademacher. "Fortunately, I didn't."

"I underestimated his punching power but not his ability. He's fresh from winning the Olympic heavyweight title, and eager. He has the qualifications of a future great fighter but he lacks experience."

Patterson said he was surprised by the knockdown but didn't feel he was in any trouble. He appeared unmarked as he dropped his hands in a bucket of ice water, and talked calmly.

"Rademacher was much harder puncher than Hurricane Jack, and talked calmly."

"Rademacher was a much harder puncher than Hurricane Jackson but he doesn't have the stamina."

Floyd said Rademacher stung him after the second round but didn't again connect with a really stiff punch.

"I was catching him often but not catching him flush," he said of the six knockdowns that preceded the finisher.

Patterson was knocked down only once before in his career on a sneak right hand by Jacques Crecy-Royer early in his career while he still was a light heavyweight.

Asked the reason Rademacher's good early showing didn't surprise him, Patterson replied: "He was an Olympic champion. I was an Olympic champion once too and I know how tough they have to be."

Patterson's manager, Gus D'Amato, remained noncommittal on future plans for the champion. "I can't say at this time," was his only comment. Earlier he stated he has a pair of $250,000 offers already.

Konsek Holds Jaycee Golf Tourney Lead

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A gangling youth from Lancaster, N. Y., carried a precarious two-stroke advantage into the third round of the 12th annual International Jaycee junior golf tournament.

John Konsek, 17-year-old junior champ and Jaycee titlist, shot par Thursday on Ohio State University's 6,810-yard par 72 layout to take the lead at the halfway mark.

He parlayed his 72 with a first round 73 for a two-day total of 145. In second place with a 71-76-147 was Jackie Nicklaus, Columbus, Ohio, still the favorite to win the 72-hole medal play competition.

Labron Harris Jr., a 15-year-old performer from Stillwater Okla., continued in the running with a 74-76-150, good for third place.

He fashioned rounds of 36 and 40 to stay one stroke ahead of Payne Palmer III, Phoenix, Ariz., who showed a 75-76-151.

Gerald Cundari, Portland, Ore., held down fifth place with a 78-74-152 while Richard Youngberg, Northbrook, Ill., fell from first place to sixth after he floundered in with an 82. Youngberg, who shot one-under par 71 in Wednesday's opener, had a 153.

The field was trimmed to 101 when two Ohio golfers withdrew from second round competition. The tourney runs through Saturday.

Rademacher Is Undecided About Future

SEATTLE (AP)—"When somebody's chopping at you with an axe, it's bound to get you."

Pete Rademacher, the Olympic heavyweight champion, thus explained his knockout at the hands of the professional champion of the world, Floyd Patterson, in their title match Thursday.

Pete, his gib, bruised hands soaking in a bucket of ice, was unmarked despite the seven times he hit the canvas, the last time for the count.

Rademacher, his dreams of capturing the heavyweight pro title on his first outing vanished, said he hadn't decided what would be next on his schedule.

"I would like to fight Patterson again," Pete said, "but that's a decision that I won't make for a couple of weeks. Of course, I'll have to work up to it the next time, if there is a next time."

Rademacher, who decked the champion in the second round, said the punch had a lot of beef behind it.

"The knockdown didn't surprise me as much as it did Floyd," Rademacher said. "I saw the opening and poured it home. It was a right to the side of the head."

Rademacher said Patterson's strongest punch is a short right to the head. Those were the shots that got me over the long haul. Each one took a little more out of me.

"His body punches didn't seem to phase me at all."

"I've fought amateurs who hit as hard as Floyd. One of those was Zora Foley (now the No. 2 heavyweight)."

Logart Risks Ranking Against Walter Byers

DETROIT (AP)—Cuban welterweight Isaac Logart risks his No. 2 ranking tonight against up-and-coming Walter Byers of Boston in a 10-round bout at Detroit's Olympia Stadium.

"I reek nothing," said Logart. "I ween thees one beeg and then I ween champenship—then I have beeg money."

Logart, who says he is two years younger than the 24 years the record books indicate, has a wide edge in experience over the light-punching easterner. In 61 professional fights, Logart has won 50, lost 6 and fought two draws.

He is a solid 11-5 favorite to defeat the 25-year-old Byers, the ex-Marine who has had only 21 pro bouts. Byers has been brought along rapidly and has won 16 of his 21 fights. He will be out to break a 10-fight losing streak, having dropped decisions recently to Tony DeMarco, the No. 1 challenger to Carmen Basilio's title, and Virgil Akins.

Logart has beaten many of the wants a shot at DeMarco.

The fight tonight will be nationally televised and broadcast (9 p.m., EST, NBC-TV).

De La Torre Leads in Golf Tournament

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Mamuel De La Torre of Milwaukee, who stands 97th on the 1957 PGA Golf earnings list with earnings of less than $1,000 dollars, today led the field into the second round of the $35,000 Milwaukee Open Golf Tournament.

Trailing the 35-year-old pro from the nearby Milwaukee Country Club are 16 of the nation's 18 top money winners. Their goal is the $6,000 first prize.

De La Torre, who has been a pro since 1947 without attracting much attention outside of Wisconsin, toured Tripoli Golf Club's 6,355-yard layout in a 5-under-par 65 Thursday for a slim one stroke lead.

Right behind him with 66s were Bo Winger of Odessa, Tex., and Jackie Burke Jr., of Kiamnesia Lakes, N.Y.

Applying pressure with 67s on the man who usually stays close-to-home were Howie Johnson of Houston, Tex., Walker Inman of Pensacola, Fla., Al Bessellink of Grossingers, N.Y., Don Whitt of Alameda, Calif., and San Francisco's Bob Rosburg.

Also finding Tripoli's rolling fairways, fast greens and cropped rough to their liking were Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs W. Va., defending champion Ed Furgol from St. Andrews, Ill., San Francisco's Ken Venturi, Gene Littler of Singing Hills, Calif., Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., and Cary Middlecoff of Dallas.

Snead, Venturi, Finsterwald and Littler had 68s while Furgol and Middlecoff crowded 69s.

The new pact also will cover the Walker China Co. of Bedford, Pa., and the Buffalo China Co. of Buffalo, N.Y. It is the first time in history the four chinaware firms have conducted contrast negotiations separately with the IBOP, as they now are covered in the union's general contract with the U.S. Pottery Association.

The bargaining sessions opened at 10 this morning in the Wade Park Manor Hotel. They are expected to cover several days.

Brotherhood representatives are headed by E. L. Wheatley, international president. The present contract covering the four firms expires Oct. 1.

Girard Keeps Mum on Shooting Case, Will Do Talking at Trial

CAMP DREW, Japan (U) — "I ain't got no comment. Anything I have to say, I'll say in court." Repeating those words over and over, a young American soldier for seven months has held his tongue about the fantastic jam he is in.

Starting Monday, William S. Girard gets his day in court. That's when he goes on trial before three Japanese judges on charges of killing a Japanese woman brass-pick on a firing range.

Girard, 22, hopes he will be acquitted or get a suspended sentence on his claim that the Jan. 30 shooting was an accident while he was on guard duty.

Apart from the evidence, the slightly built, brown-haired Illinois soldier has one built-in argument in his defense — he can say he could not possibly kill a Japanese except by sheer accident, for he likes Japanese people and married a Japanese girl last month.

Prosecutors will try to show Girard was irresponsible, negligent and contemptuous of human life — especially Japanese — in pulling the trigger. But they may be hard-pressed to find anything in the soldier's humble Florida and Illinois upbringing to offset his demonstrated liking for Japanese.

After quitting school in his freshman year at Streator (Ill.) High, Girard tried several jobs, working for 45 days at the Owens-Illinois Glass Co. plant shortly before enlisting in 1953.

He liked the Army, which assigned him as a truck driver, and decided to make it his career. Until he went AWOL this month to drink beer outside the camp, the shooting was the only blemish on an otherwise good conduct record.

He arrived in Japan in 1955, re-enlisted in 1956, and hopes to do so again this fall unless his trial interferes. As a specialist third class, he earns $140 a month.

For nearly two years, his constant companion has been Haru Sueyama, a short, freckled one-time bar waitress six years older than himself. They were married last month.

"This is going to be my hobby for the rest of my life," Girard once said, caressing the girl, whom he nicknamed "Candy" because she likes sweets.

Since Girard came under investigation, she has loyally visited him every night in camp, often bringing him Japanese food which he likes.

"Three years ago, I started going out with GIs and decided to disconnect myself from my past, which I'm not very proud of, working in bars here and there and all ever since my folks died," Candy recalled. "When I met Girard, he used to drink quite heavily and no one wanted to have much to do with him. I forced him to straighten out, even sold my belongings once to support him when he spent all his money. Now he hardly ever touches a drop."

Japanese villagers of Kagohara, Girard's camp, know and like the couple, and credit Candy with re-making Girard into "a good man."

Throughout his tribulations, Girard has been loyal to his brother Louis, 38, head of the Girard family in Illinois since the illnesses of his late father and his mother.

It was Louis who persuaded William to deny Japanese jurisdiction in his case and allow State-side lawyers to wage a six-week court battle in Washington against the U.S. agreement to a Japanese trial.

"As you know, I was following the orders of my brother... How I felt about it didn't make any difference," William said afterward.

Antique Planes

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (U) — Frank Tallman is a young flier with a soaring ambition — he wants to create a museum in the sky.

If you have an abandoned elderly airplane in your backyard (and pray who doesn't?), call Tallman. He wants it. Thousands today collect antique autos. Tallman is a pioneer in a newer and limited field — the preservation of antique airplanes.

He is a leader in the small but growing number of enthusiasts who seek to salvage for posterity the remaining winged remnants of the early air age. But the airplanes he finds and rebuilds aren't destined, he hopes, for a duty museum. He wants to put them back in the sky — at America's air shows — where they belong.

"I don't think it's quite enough to see the color and beauty of the brother on two other matters... Louis' original opposition to his marriage plans and criticism of Japanese, including use of the word "Jap."

"My brother has never been in Japan and he doesn't think the way I do," William says.

past, unless it's out in the sunshine working," he explained.

Flying long has been the main interest of Tallman, a slender 30-year-old man with a straw-colored mustache that makes him look like a British sergeant major. His father, a World War I naval pilot, let him take over the controls of a plane at 5.

Since then Frank has logged more than 6,000 hours in more than 75 types of aircraft, ranging from 1910 Bleriot to flying boats, gliders, bombers and jets. He was a Navy flier in the last war, has served as a test pilot, and is one of a comparative handful of U.S. airmen licensed to fly every type of plane.

But today his heart is with the wood-wire-and-cloth relics of the days when the air was an opening ocean to man.

"I was in the tailend of the helmet and goggles era of the open biplane," he said. "And I believe the fun in flying was then — when you could see it, feel it, and smell it."

"The pleasure went out when they started putting on an oxygen mask, a hard hat, and an anti-gravity space suit — all worn in a pressurized cabin. When they took away the feel of the wind in your face, they took away most of the fun."

A year ago Frank made a hard choice — between a dream and a job. He quit a post as account executive for a broadcasting network and set out to assemble his flying museum.

He buttered his bread, meanwhile, by stunt flying for Hollywood, and by going to England to assemble a portfolio of portraits of vintage World War I war birds for True magazine.

So far Tallman has collected only nine obsolete planes (the 1910 Bleriot is his earliest, a Grumman Wildcat his latest), but at that his collection is one of the world's largest.
